

Episode 10: v2.0

Edited and refined versions of the 9 episodes

MARDAN

AUG 30, 2026

At this moment after writing nine full episodes I thought it is the best time to pause for a week and refine those episodes. So, here are the second versions of each episode.

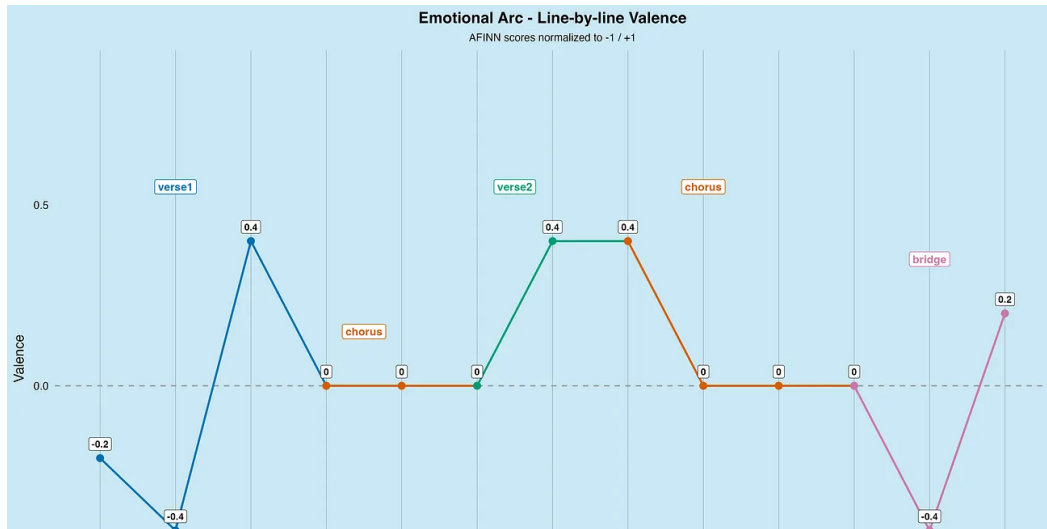

Note on AI use: While I am coding I take help from AI. But while documenting the results I try my best to paraphrase as much as possible. There are some technical issues that I am still learning through applying. So, I sometimes take text from an AI response, try to understand it and then paraphrase it.

Most of the articles are evaluated as 100% human written, while several parts of some articles are judged as AI written.

Additionally, I have tested that when I add code snippets Pangram judges those parts as AI written.
